

People Extra

weekly

AMAZING

MEET THE INSPIRING ACHIEVERS, HEROES
AND UNDERDOGS WHO BEAT THE ODDS
WITH BRAINS, GUTS—OR JUST PLAIN LUCK

Dr. Deoge Howser, a dachshund, hangs (sings) along with her owner. Blossoms celebrity groomer Leo Day

NEW JERSEY

To reach pet owners with her pro-neutering message, Bloomfield animal groomer Leo Day, 37, first needs to gain their attention. Which is why she's publicly baptized a parrot, "bark mitzvahed" a poodle named Harvey and married not only penguins at Orlando's Sea World (yes, both bride and groom wore tuxes), but also Tammy Faye Bakker's Yorkie, Corkie.

TAMMY canine chastity

TAMMY Faye Bakker's Yorkshire terrier isn't living in sin. Corkie was spending a lot of time with Peaches, a white poodle who lives nearby, so Tammy asked celebrity pet groomer and entertainer Leo Day to marry the two in a Christian ceremony in North Carolina. WWOR-TV features reporter Remy Blumenfeld presents portions of the taped ceremony showing a tuxedoed Corkie walking down the aisle with his bride, who wears the latest in canine bridal fashions, on News Nine Prime Time tonight. The dogs exchange gold-plated collars. Ceremonies start at $1000.

AMERICANS!